CANNES

VILLA GRANADA

Built around 1882 & originally know as villa Madrid, this property was the holiday home where the crowned heads met at the turn of the century.

It was built of cut stone in an eclectic classical style of English type and a polygonal tower covered with a slate dome was leaned against it.

Its facades embellished with turrets and lined with carved garland cornices give the building a worked and opulent signature. Its interior is not to be outdone.

Floral wallpapers, hangings, 6 meters high painted ceilings, worked parquet floors, mouldings and gilding decorate each room in a classic and colourful style.

This unique piece of history and architecture was fully restored and decorated to its former grandeur in 2021/2022.
